

Old Fort Henry

Military Displays

Originally occupied by British and Canadian troops, the Fort is now "garrisoned" by the internationally renowned Fort Henry Guard, a group of Canadian students specially trained in the infantry drill, artillery exercises and rifle and drum music of the British Army of 1867. Daily until Labour Day (weather permitting), the Guard puts on exhibitions of the drill used at the Fort over a hundred years ago.

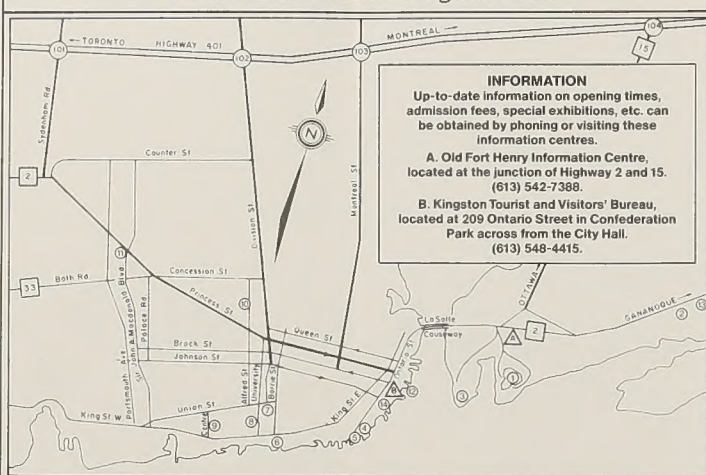

The Ceremonial Retreat

Every Wednesday and Saturday during July and August (weather permitting), the Fort Henry Guard stages a military spectacle starting at 7:30 p.m. This ceremony lasts about an hour and a half. A display of music and marching by the rifle and drum band, an exhibition of infantry drill and a mock battle with artillery support are all brought to a close with the firing of the garrison artillery and the lowering of the Union Jack. You are advised to check beforehand as the Guard is sometimes on tour.
